The friends of the contemplated railroad from Montreal to the Hudson river, by way of Plattsburg, are to meet in Albany on the 23d inst. The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser furnishes the following information of the progress of the Lake Shore Railroad beyond Cleveland, between which place and Buffalo, as we have before mentioned, the cars are now making regular trips:—

as we have before mentioned, the cars are now making regular trips:—
West of Cleveland the road is progressing rapidly, and will soon be opened to Toledo. From the latter place castward, near to where the track crosses the Sandusky and Mansfield road, the rails are laid, and many travelers are passing over it on open dirt cars, instead of resorting to steamboats. The patronized thoroughfare between Sandusky City and Cleveland is now the Mansfield route to Shelby, and thence to Cleveland direct, by the Columbus road. There is no delay except for meals at Shelby, and the route, though much farther than by steamboat, is less perflows at this season, and reckoning time, is no longer.

The antiquette coal trade keeps up well for the season.

is less perilous at this season, and reckoning time, is no longer.

The anthracite coal trade keeps up well for the season. The tonnage for the week, by the three principal lines reaches 88,186 tons, and for the season 3,875,487 tons. The Reading Railroad has a brought down 1,504,841 tons, the Lehigh Navigation 1,043,007 tons, and the Schuylkill Navigation 737,639 tons. The tonnage of the Lehigh is up to Saturday of last week, and of the other two companies up to Thursday of the present week. The business of the road is little in excess of that of last year to the same time, but the prices received have been so much better, that the revenues of the concern are largely greater. The Schuylkill Navigation has had not only better prices, but has added some fifty per cent to its tonnage, and the Lehigh has reaped the advantage of increased tonnage and the advanced price of coal. Altogether, the coal companies close the season most favorably, and with prospects favorable for even a better business next season.
